A singular accident once happened to A singular accident once happened to the late Mr. Brunel, the celebrated engi-neer. Mr. Brunel, while performing a conjuring trick for the amusement of some children, allowed a half sovereign to slip into his throat (not his windpipe), to slip into his throat (not his windpipe), where it remained immovable. A surgeon was sent for, who af once prenounced it an impossibility to remove the obstacle by any of the ordinary means. He opened a passage in the guilet, through which Mr. Brunel might be fed, and told his patient that a couch must be constructed on which he might be securely lastened face downward, and then be tilted up, feet uppermost, and brought up suddenly with a jerk on reaching the perpendicular position. reaching the perpendicular position. Mr. Brunel entered into this plan with his usual energy, and devised and made a sketch of the machine for the uphol-sterer. While it was being made, the patient was kept quiet, and fed through the aperture. Several days clapsed, and then, on being placed on the couch, and treated in the way intended, the shock caused by the sudden stoppage when tilled up with his head downward, relaxed for an instant the muscles which held the coin, and it fell against his Devere, obtaining property by false pretenses; Matt. Felix, assault and battery.

The Grand Jury in their final report made last evening, found that in the matter of the shaving of the prisoner Butts, a razor had been procured from a fellow prisoner in whom the jailer had implicit confidence, and while it proves to have been misplaced, the authorities are exempt from censure. In the Fos-dick case they found that the circumstances surrounding his death were upon which to base an indictment.

How's This!

The law, especially criminal law, is a queer animal, sure's you live. Now ere's a poor fellow named George Buercke who procured a situation in a certain brewery (the case was men-tioned in the STAR at the time), where there were four workmen who took a no-tion into their heads to oust him. They didn't like his coming there to work.

So on the 10th of September they way-laid the poor devil and nearly killed him by beating his head almost beyond recognition. Ever since that time be has been disabled from work and his face to-day shows evidence of the bruis. ing he received. The assailants—Ulrich Remmelsberger, Charles Glyckher, Geo. martin and Geo. Nagel, big burly men, either of whom alone was a match for Buercke, were arrested and charged with an assault with intent to kill. There was the trouble. It was held by the Judge, on the hearing of the case this morning, that the evidence did not substantiate the charge of assault with Nine-mile House. Speakers, C. W. The Board of Direction unanimously approved this recommendation, and awarded the Gold Medal to Wheeler & Wilson, the only Gold Medal awarded for a Sewing Machine by the American Institute for many years.

The Austrian Official Report of the Vienna Exposition pronounced it "the marvel of the Exposition," and added, " this universal machine sews the heaviest leather harness and the finest gauze with a truly pearl stitch." The Grand Medal of Progress was awarded for it. What the Leading Manufacturers of Boots

WHEELER & WILSON'S New No. 6 Sewing Machine.

We, manufacturers of Boots and Shoes, are using Wheeler & Wilson's New No. 6 Sewing Machine in all kinds of stitching on our work, and confidently believe that it will supersede all others in this branch of manufactures, for tne following reasons: 1. The work done by this machine is superior to that of any other in variety, amount, excellence and beauty.

2. This machine is more durable than any other of its class, requiring much less outlay for repairs and renewal of parts.
